

POWERFLEX for Small Business

About Pacific LightNet PowerFlex for Small Business

Pacific LightNet PowerFlex for Small Business bundles voice and internet services on one network connection to provide small business with an economical yet feature rich communications solution.

Utilizing a broadband access line, a single connection is used to carry voice phone calls and high speed data. The connection's bandwidth can be dynamically adjusted according to your business needs. When you need to make a phone call, some bandwidth is used for phone calls. When you are not making calls, the entire bandwidth is used for Internet and data traffic. Your connection is put to its best use according to service the needs of your business at that moment.

Pacific LightNet PowerFlex for Small Business provides a suite of advanced applications that offer ease of use in managing your accounts, placing calls, controlling your email, voicemail, faxes and more from your desktop PC. Available in small business bundles, these services provide the appropriate communications solution for your business.
